

Supporting people Connecting communities

Our plan for having a good life in Camden

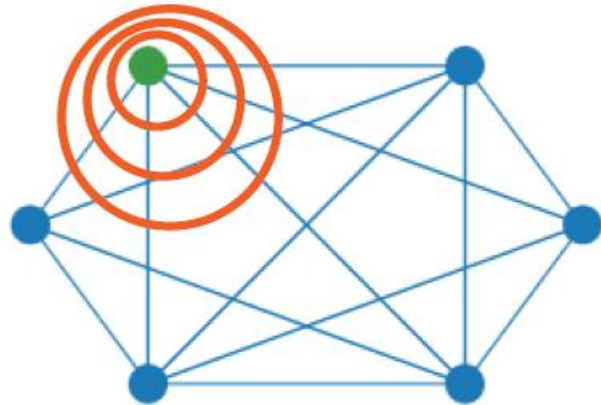

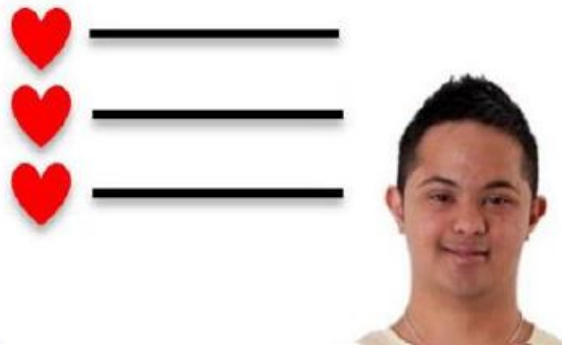

Camden wants you to...

- Be as independent as possible
- Have more choice and control
- Be involved in decisions

We plan to...

- Focus on what is most important to you.
- Recognise your strengths and your networks.
- Help you stay connected in your community.

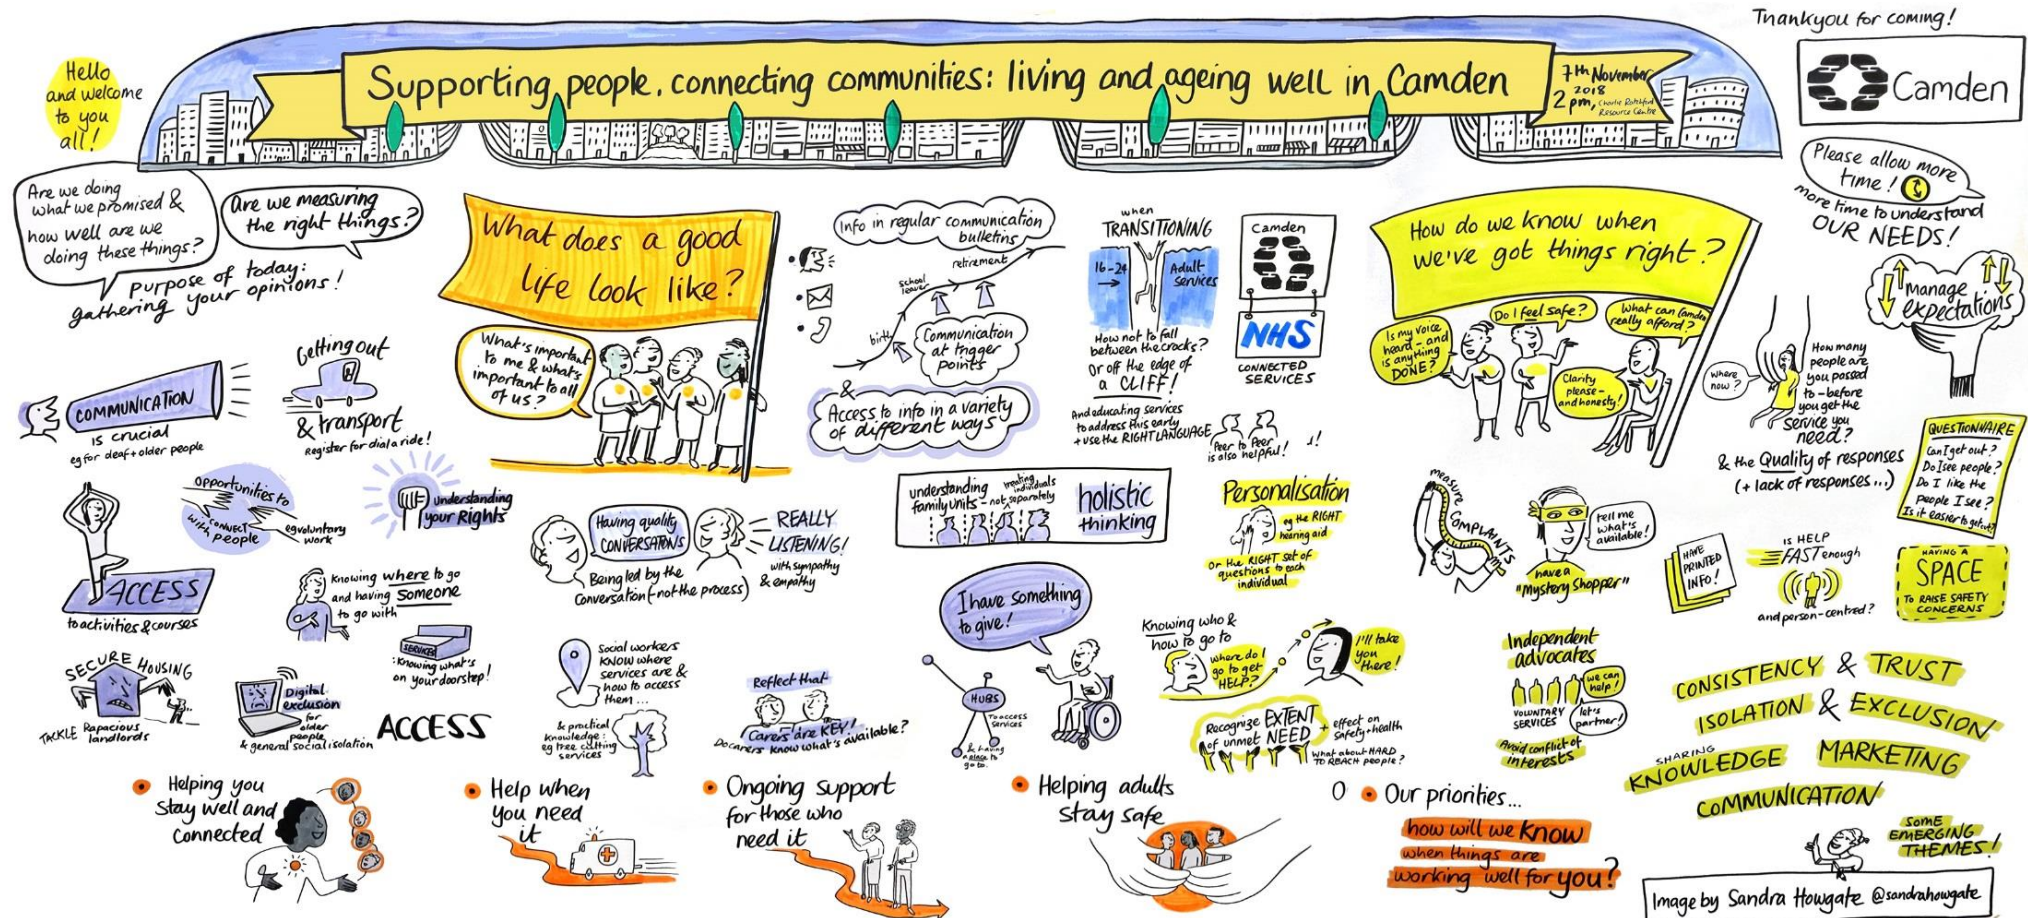

We need to know if we are doing well and getting it right.

So we held meetings with residents of Camden and they told us what matters to them.

People with learning disabilities were there.

This is what people told us

This is what we will aim to do

We will know if we are getting it right by giving you lots of opportunities to give feedback:

- Resident questionnaire – done by someone else so we are checking the checkers.
- Social workers and their managers will be asking citizens often if they are happy or not with the service.
- Group meetings to give you a chance to share your views.
- We will make sure that citizens are at the centre of making decisions about their life.

What next...

- We will show you the questionnaire questions and you can tell us if they make sense.

2020

- Next year we will come back to CBUG and tell you the results of the surveys.
